

Misdemeanor Court the week I was in court. Since November 2007, I have been handling the cases assigned to the Public Defenders' Office for defendants who's last names begin with the letters M-Z and are scheduled in Misdemeanor Court the week I am in Court.

6. I do not know the exact number of cases that are currently open under my name at this time. All I am able to do is rely on the data that our office provides from our database system, LegalPro. I can estimate how many cases are currently open under my name, however, I believe that I will end up handling more cases than what is currently open under my name. This is because I have ended up handling cases that weren't opened under my name initially. Sometimes this happens because the attorney the case was initially opened under changed court rotations and then I ended up handling the case, or the attorney the case was initially opened under ended up resetting the case to my docket. I do not feel as if there is a definite way to know.

7. I do not know the exact number of cases that have been opened under my name between January 7, 2008 and February 6, 2008, nor do I know the exact number of cases that have been closed under my name between January 7, 2008 and February 6, 2008. From looking at my prior dockets, I can very easily go back and note how many persons I have represented and how many charges I have handled in court on any given day. However, as Tennessee Statute defines 'case' as a 'single instance', I am unsure and unable to determine an exact number of 'cases' that I have opened and/or closed between January 7, 2008 and February 6, 2008, for some clients pick up their charges all at once and some clients pick up their charges across separate incidents.

8. I would estimate that somewhere between 150 and 200 cases are currently open under my name.

9. Under my own calculations, I have determined that I represented 151 persons between January 7, 2008 and February 6, 2008. With those 151 persons, I single-handedly handled 267 charges. On average during the month of January 7, 2008 through February 6, 2008, I handled approximately 14 persons and 24 charges per day.

10. I have no way of knowing for certain how many cases I have closed between January 7, 2008 and February 6, 2008; However, I would estimate that I on average close around one-third of my cases on a daily and weekly basis.

11. According to our office database, LegalPro, it is indicated that at present, I am the defendant's attorney in approximately 172 cases. Of those indicated 172 cases, approximately 22 of those cases are felonies, approximately 149 of those cases are misdemeanors, and approximately 1 of those cases is a probation violation.

12. According to our office database, LegalPro, it is indicated that between January 7, 2008 and February 6, 2008, I closed approximately 9 felony cases, 48 misdemeanors cases, and 4 probation violation cases.

13. According to our office database, LegalPro, it is indicated that between January 7, 2008 and February 6, 2008, I was assigned approximately 11 new felony cases, 57 new misdemeanor cases, and 5 new probation violation cases.

14. Regarding the felony cases that our office database, LegalPro, reports, I do have reason to believe there has been slight error in these reports. As I am stationed in Misdemeanor Court, I've only handled a felony case if it was a Class E Evading Arrest charge. I have recently learned that our office database, LegalPro, has been recording Simple Possession charges entered during January 7, 2008 and February 6, 2008 as Class E felonies rather than Class A misdemeanors (as they should more accurately be reported). Although this slight error affects the degree of the cases I have handled, I do not believe that it changes the overall total number of cases in general.

15. Other than the information that I have been provided with, I have no means, method, or knowledge to affirm that what our office database, LegalPro, reflects is true and accurate. By looking at the numbers and reflecting on my experience as an attorney, I do believe it may be a fair estimation and representation.

Further, affiant saith not.

JHASTA MOORE

Sworn to and subscribed before me this the 27th day of February, 2008.

NOTARY PUBLIC

My commission expires: 09-06-08

